Dear Secretary Dortch:

DOCKET FILE COPY ORIGINAL

While it is clear that the comments made by Stephen Colbert on Monday, May 1, about President Trump were a little over the top, these comments were not homophobic and were comments made about President Trump. And, under the First Amendment, he is entitled to make them. It would have been better for him to have made the most outrageous comments in a private conversation rather than on national television. However, the comments were not made during prime time or when children should be watching. The comments were no more lewd than writing in shows such as Two and Half Men. If you are going to quench First Amendments rights for Colbert, I suggest you do the same for President Trump, who has offended people by his nefarious comments towards individual people, the media, government leaders (past and present), international leaders, and even foreign countries.

Here are just a few of his many gems directed toward women: (1) "And when you're a star, they let you do it, you can do anything. Grab them by the p***y, you can do anything." (2) Re Megan Kelly: [she had] "blood coming out of her eyes, blood coming out of her... wherever." (3) Re Ariana Huffington: "is unattractive both inside and out. I fully understand why her former husband left her for a man- he made a good decision." (4) Re Rosie O'Donnell: "how much would it take for you to make out with Rosie O'Donnell? One trillion, at least!" and "Rosie's a person who's very lucky to have her girlfriend. And she better be careful or I'll send one of my friends over to pick up her girlfriend, why would she stay with Rosie if she had another choice?" (5) Re Hillary Clinton: "If Hillary Clinton can't satisfy her husband, what makes her think she can satisfy America?" (6) Re Carly Fiorina: "Look at that face. Would anybody vote for that?" (7) Re Ivanka Trump: "Don't you think my daughter's hot? She's hot, right?" and commenting to Howard Stern that it is okay to describe Ms. Trump as "a piece of ass." (8) Re Brande Roderick: "It must be a pretty picture, you dropping to your knees." And, (9) Re female reporters in general: "It doesn't really matter what (they) write as long as you've got a young and beautiful piece of a**."

Finally, why is there not a way to contact the FCC via email without referencing a specific Proceeding? I could not find any proceedings referring to this investigation.

Sincerely,

Cecilia Dean
